Commute to the fairgrounds in Hannover

During the show, most ICE/IC trains from Goettingen to Hannover will stop at the train station by the fairgrounds, Bahnhof Messe Laatzen. Train ride is about 30 minutes.

Before and after the show, you will have to take a train to Hannover Hauptbahnhof (main train station downtown). Once there, you can take any train going south that stops by the fairgrounds, or tram (U-Bahn) number 8. Travel time will be about 50 minutes.

Please make sure to read about weekly train passes below, they will save you a lot of money.

To make a reservation, please do not contact the hotel. Please contact:

Please take this form to the ticket window at the train station in either Goettingen or Hannover. You will be purchasing a weekly ICE (InterCity Express) train pass between Goettingen Bahnhof and Hannover Hauptbahnhof. The pass lets you take unlimited trips between the two train stations for the period of 7 days.

Currently, pass cost is EUR 92.70. Prices might change after the New Year.

The pass will have a traveler's name on it, so you will need to present a photo ID. Please have your passport ready.

Please note that during CeBIT, most ICE/IC trains from Goettingen to Hannover Hauptbahnhof stop at Bahnhof Messe Laatzen (the train station by the fairgrounds). From there take SkyWalk to the entrance by Hall 13. Train travel time is around 30 minutes.

Please double check train schedule to make sure that you board a train that stops by the fairgrounds.

I would like to purchase a weekly ICE/IC train pass between Goettingen Hauptbahnhof and Hannover Hauptbahnhof.
