Preface	The contractual partner of the purchaser is Fachausstellungen Heckmann GmbH. Fachausstellungen Heckmann GmbH has contracted the service partner specified in the order form to assist with the fulfilment of the contractual obligations arising from this order.
Rental letting agreement	The rental objects are made available only for the purpose and time period agreed upon. A prolongation of the rental period requires the lessor's written consent. The lessor is entitled to charge an additional rental, should the rental objects not be available to him at the time agreed upon. The lessor's assertion of any further compensation claim remains untouched. Useful changes of indicated dimensions and colors remain reserved.
Delivery and collection	The delivery of all orders without an indicated delivery date is carried out early enough for the rental objects to be available at the event's start. After the event's end the rental objects will be fetched back as soon as possible. The tenant shall make the rental objects available, ready for collection. Should the rental objects' delivery or collection be prevented due to the tenant's faulty conduct, the lessor may charge the tenant for the additional expenditure caused. To people picking the goods up themselves we point out that the rental objects should only be transported in suitable, covered vehicles. Appliances will be delivered to the stand; they will be put into operation and instruction given on the last day of construction before the event.
Ordering water and electricity supply	The supply of electricity and water needed for kitchen appliances must be ordered from using Forms S2.10(electricity) and S2.20.(water installation)
Liability and compensation	In the case of damage to or loss of the rental objects the tenant can be held responsible for the replacement costs thereof or the repair costs, provided that it does not exceed the cost of replacement. This does not affect assertion of claims for damages caused by delayed performance on the part of tenant. Payment of the rental is also unaffected by this. Liability starts with the delivery to the exhibition stand and ends with the pick up from there. This counts if the exhibition stand is unmanned as well. The liability ends 24 hours after event's end, unless the rental objects were not ready for collection or another pick up time was agreed upon. A liability on the part of the lessor for damages to property or persons in connection with the rental object's usage is ruled out, unless the lessor is guilty of intent or gross negligence.
Faults and substitute delivery	The tenant is responsible for checking for himself that the rental object is in proper condition and complete at the point of acceptance and is obligated to reprimand immediately. Should this not be exercised, the goods are considered to be faultless. The same applies to the acceptance by the lessor. In the case of a legitimate complaint the lessor may deliver a substitute of equal or higher value for the same price. Claims cannot be enforced on such substitute deliveries. The lessor is relieved from his delivery obligation if he prevented from delivering by force majeure.
Withdrawal	The withdrawal from an order is permissible up to 10 days before the begin of the event agreed upon. For withdrawal at a later time the whole rental is to be paid. Should a further renting out be possible, the customer shall only be charged the resulting costs up to that point. In the case of a legitimate complaint, the tenant is entitled to withdraw, should the lessor not be able to supply a substitute of equal or higher value.
Place of jurisdiction	Place of jurisdiction shall be Hannover, Germany. The Fachausstellungen Heckmann GmbH reserves the right to file claims in a court at the client's place of business.
